THE LAST LETTERS OF REV. JOHN MARY JACQUET

The life of Rev. John M. Jacquet, pastor of Batesville St. Mary and later at Coshocton in the Diocese of Columbus, has been described more than once in the pages of the Bulletin. To him, in human terms, can probably be ascribed the development of the religious vocation of Most Rev. Nicholas Gallagher, Bishop of Galveston. Now we are grateful that a new member of the Society, Miss Mary Agnes McCabe, a grand-niece of the bishop, has provided to us copies of five letters which the venerable Father Jacquet wrote to her mother during his last years. Three of these are of some interest from either the historical or biographical perspective and will be published as space permits. The first of them was written while he was still pastor of Coshocton and its missions.

Coshocton O. Feb. 15 92

Miss Mary Gallagher

Dear Mary

I thank you for your very interesting letter of yesterday. I am glad you inform me of the death of poor James McGuire. I will say Mass in a few days for the repose of his soul. Thank God I am well; have not been sick; but some times not as well as usual.

The grippe has been so plenty here, that every sickness is called grippe. I suppose Mr. Peter Armbruster like myself is not very young now, and they say for old people the grippe is harder. Uncle John was never very strong. I wrote to him some time ago I think twice, and got no answer; I think I will not write again.

I am surprised that uncle James gets only $8,00 pension. Here lots of soldiers who did less service than James get $12,00 and more; and the widows get $12,00. Mrs. Funk gets $12,00 and many others. Give all the uncles my best regards; I often think of them. In a few months I will be 75 years of age; but my health keeps good. I have much need of it. We are commencing a church at Spring Mountain; I forget if you have been there; I rather think you have. The Church of Killbuck is getting too small, and is out of the way, as your old church was.

Have you seen the church of Wills Creek. [Coshocton Co.] It is a great blessing to the Catholics of W.C. On a fair Sunday it is almost full. It is so much better for me than the two old mud holes! I went there last Sunday in 75 minutes! The church of Spring Mountain will be her sister, built alike only 5 feet shorter; we have already commenced; it will be the 4th and last church I built.

When I left St. Mary's 23 years ago, I had commenced talking about a church in Barnsville but had not commenced working. Give my best compliments to Father Montag. Tell him if our new RR. gets finished in my days I will ask him to come here at the 40 hours devotions. Here they push it very hard. The bridge starts from this side of the river and goes all the way across the canal; it must be more than half a mile long. There are 10 stone piers and a long trestel. They say the road will be finished by the 4 of July. I dont expect to go to the dedication; but if the new road is finished in my time, I will be sure to go. It will be only 50 miles; and we will go in 2 hours, and no change of car, and no waiting for connections, that will be grand. I am very glad that you have a new church; you had need of it. Coshocton is growing, come and see us, you will be surprised! I suppose you don't think of Kentucky I still think you would have made a splendid sister.

Yours very respectfully
John Mary Jacquet

CORRECTIONS

We have noticed two items in recent issues of the Bulletin which need to be corrected. In the September 1989 issue on page 172, the eighth last line, it was James McGahan jr., the youngest son by the first marriage, who lived with Daniel Diamond, not John McGahan. Secondly, the footnote in the November article on the reliquary in the Bishop's chapel should have stated that the current practice is to place larger relics in the floor under the altar.
